

Legal & privacy

Blnformed weekly staff communication

In order to monitor our newsletter's performance, we may track your IP address and session time. This information will be used for monitoring purposes only and will remain confidential.

We may place a cookie in the browser files of your computer. The cookie does not contain any personally identifying information. It will enable us to:

- 1. relate your use of the site to information that you have specifically provided to us, as such as a member password for any service we may provide via the website, or*
- 2. allow your browser to track searches you have performed on the site.*
- 3. BDO Kendalls will not give, sell, trade or rent any personally identifiable information you may have provided us to a third party except where:*
 - you have consented to this*
 - where it is reasonable that we do so in the provision of accounting or advisory services to you, or*
 - where the law requires us to do so.*
- 4. We allow you to access all personal information you have given us to make any changes you deem appropriate, or request that we remove personal information if you do not wish us to retain it.*

Contact the Marketing department with any questions, comments, or requests concerning this privacy policy.